

Governor profile - Tracey Sharrock

I grew up in Crawley, West Sussex, where I attended a wonderful church school. I then went to the University of Birmingham to study French, German and Archaeology and to a University in the South of France to study French Literature and enjoy the sunshine.

After graduating, I returned to France to work for a tour company for a few months before joining the civil service and taking up a post in the Department for Environment in London. I've held a wide range of posts since then including a year at the European Commission in Brussels and a few years at Surrey Fire and Rescue Service. I am currently working at the Department for Education on Early Years Funding.

I moved to Carshalton in 2000 and began attending All Saints Church soon after. I have one daughter still in the Juniors at All Saints and an older daughter who left Year 6 in 2015.

I joined the Governors Board in 2015 as a Church appointed Foundation Governor, and am also a literacy link governor and a member of the Faith Committee. I am thrilled to have this opportunity to play an active part in the life of the school.
